

Curriculum Vitae

Francesca GIANNOTTI

Main expertise in summary

Sound experience in the implementation of European regulations on chemicals, mainly REACH (EC Regulation n. 1907/2006) and CLP (EC Regulation n. 1272/2008).
Policies and measures promoting sustainable economic production.
European policies and programs supporting research, technological development (RTD), innovation and entrepreneurship, with focus on SMEs.

Professional experience

I have worked at the Ministry for Economic Development (Directorate General for Industrial Policy , Competitiveness and SMEs) since 2010, where I have been managing the Italian REACH helpdesk. I have gained extensive experience in dealing with the implementation of chemicals legislation by enterprises using, manufacturing and importing them with reference to REACH, CLP and Biocides.

Member of the ECHA HelpNet Steering Group from 2011 to 2017. Advisor at the Socio-Economic Analysis Committee (SEAC) from 2011 to June 2016.

I have been "Personne de confiance" of Mr Antonello Lapalorcia, Italian representative in the ECHA Management Board.

I am member of the Enterprise Policy Group on REACH & CLP at DG GROW in the European Commission, advisory body on competitiveness aspects related to the implementation of European chemicals regulation.

I am deputy member of the national Steering Committee on REACH, established according to Ministerial Decree November 22, 2007, gathering all national public administrations (Ministry of Health, Ministry of Environment, Ministry of Economic Development) and technical agencies (ISPRA, National Institute of Health) involved in the implementation of REACH.

Since 2011 I have been involved as a trainer and scientific co-ordinator on chemicals regulation in university master courses and in high level training initiatives.

Earlier, I have been working as an expert of innovation policies and initiatives. I have been responsible for designing and managing (technical, financial and contractual management) large international partnerships aimed at promoting transnational collaboration in the field of innovation development under EC-funded programmes.

Education

I am graduated in International Political Science at Rome "La Sapienza" University and hold a master of Advanced Studies degree in Public Administration Innovation and Management.
