Remedy sought by the Appellant

The Appellant requested the Board of Appeal to order the Agency to reimburse the registration fee which the Appellant had paid for a rejected registration of a substance.

Pleas in law and main arguments

The Contested Decision rejected a registration of a substance submitted by the Appellant. According to the Contested Decision, the Appellant failed to complete its registration with information on the constituents of the substance within the required deadline. As a result the Contested Decision rejected the registration as incomplete and stated that the Agency would not reimburse any fee received for the registration.

The Appellant questioned the 'stability' of IUCLID6 and of the validation assistant tool provided by the Agency for preparing registrations. The Appellant argued, moreover, that rejecting the registration was 'extremely strict and discriminatory' considering that changes in the Agency's completeness check practice had not been fully explained to registrants. The Appellant further claimed that not refunding the registration fee was 'excessive' taking into account the fact that the Agency's instructions were unclear.

Other information

As the Appellant withdrew the Appeal, the case was closed by the Chairman of the Board of Appeal on 9 March 2017.
